In a world where genre means less and pleasure means most, Matt Wells takes pleasure in pushing musical boundaries. The DJ, producer, and owner of True Mother Records (<https://big.tmr.sale/official-store>) cut his musical chops in the city of Chicago, curating sounds pulled from the vast pool of his subconscious, then broadcasting them with a thin candy coating of nostalgia. His knack for mining the past to be stylistically ahead of the curve is undeniable.

"I love nostalgia, but don't use it as a hammer. More of a feather tickling your toes to get you moving on the dance floor," Wells says of his penchant for picking tracks that echo his Dark Balearic (<https://the.jlover.zone/dark-balearic>) style. Whether he drops disco, electro, house or techno, Wells may defy barriers but one thing is for sure: he will summon the rhythm within you to tunes you never knew you loved (or ones you forgot you knew) until the sun steals back the day.

"Matt has a sound and style that is unmatched. His way of pushing music to new heights makes him a force to be reckoned with for many years to come. He continues to grow and evolve as a music maker that is unafraid of boundaries set by standard social norms.

Bravo to Matt for continuing to satisfy the eardrums and feed the soul"
– Sam B. via LinkedIn

"Matt is a class act. His unbelievable performance at our NYE event was a vital component of its success. Matt is exceptionally professional, extraordinarily dependable, and does his job with a sense of urgency and pride. The kids got swagger!"

– Jean M. via LinkedIn

"Matt always nailed it with his sets for our show The Top Floor, he was the staff and online audience favorite."

– Chris M. via LinkedIn
